PURPLE KEY TO GIVE SENDOFF RALLY AFTER LUNCH TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon, a football rally, arranged by the Purple Key, will give the team a send-off as they depart for their tussle with Syracuse at Archibald Stadium. The rally will be held behind Carlin directly after lunch and it is hoped that as many as possible will cheer the team off to a victory against the resurgent Orange as they embark on a two-game road trip.

This afternoon, immediately after lunch, the Key held a short pep rally in the Kimball Hall. Guest speakers of the occasion were Sophomore back Hettinger, who starred in last year's engagement with Brown and Mike Cooney, an offensive end who came out from his right tackle post. The rally was provided by an informal band of the Holy Cross Band. Jack O'Connell, president of the Student Council and Purple Key member, was chairman of this rally. There was originally a huge rally planned for tonight in the Chapel but due to the early departure of the team and band the event was cancelled.

Next week the team travels to Marquette to play the mighty Hill-Quakers. Holy Cross-Syracuse game in the Kimball Theatre. Joe Gleason will be commentator and will explain the different plays. Admission to the game is only fifteen cents. These seats are being shown through the generosity of the A.A. A notice will be concerning the exact time.

Afternoon next week the Purple Key will sponsor the movies of the Holy Cross-Syracuse game in the Kimball Theatre. Joe Gleason will be commentator and will explain the different plays. Admission to the game is only fifteen cents. These seats are being shown through the generosity of the A.A. A notice will be concerning the exact time.

HOLY CROSS OUTING CLUB TO HOLD HALLOWE'EN STAG DANCE SATURDAY EVENING IN FIELDHOUSE

One hundred and fifty girls from Mount Holyoke, Newton, Smith, Wellesley and other colleges will gather at the "Witching the Outing Club Stag Dance" held Saturday night in the Fieldhouse from 8 to 12 p.m. P. Burke, '53, and Brendan V. Sullivan, '55, co-chairmen of this year's top social event, have been planning a Halloween decorative background for the music as Gregory and his band.

Plans for this first stag dance of the 1952-1953 scholastic year will be carried out throughout the corridors of the college and in the Post Office on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Outing Club members admitted at the price of $.75; non-members will be assessed $1.20. Labor permits until one o'clock departure automatically granted to all holders.

Purple Key Sponsors Big Brother Day For St. Ann's Orphanage

Last Saturday, the Purple Key sponsored Big Brother Day for 15 orphans from St. Ann's Orphanage Home in Worcester. The main feature of the afternoon was the Brown game where all of the children sat in the student cheering section. Each of the boys was escorted by a student from the college.

With the customary hot dogs and soft drinks, Crusader banners and wildly partisan cheering, only their smallness of stature distinguished them from the more adult version of the Crusaders. After the game the entire group went to Kimball Hall where they dined with the regular student body.

Perhaps the biggest moment of the day was during the meal when Charlie Maloy, Chet Millet, Joe Gleason and company came over to greet their fans. To the accompaniment of "Gee, there's Tony and Chick and Tiger," the boys and grid-ders immensely enjoyed the experience.

Joseph E. Corry, '54, a member of the Purple Key and vice-president of the NFCCS, who had conceived and organized the idea, was chairman of the day. Acting as big brothers for the day in co-operation with the Sodality were Seniors Raymond F. Bo-

Patcher Organization Announces Managers

Richard J. Barnes, '53, Business Manager of the 1953 Purple Patcher, has announced the appointments of John M. Flavan, '53, and John S. T. Gallagher, '53, as co-advertising managers, John J. Weis, '53, as circulation manager, and Joseph F. Sawyer, '53, as assistant circulation manager for day students.

Organizational meetings were held last Wednesday and Friday evenings for all those interested in joining either the circulation or the advertising staffs.

The circulation department involves the sale of the book to the students and in the city of Worcester. The sales campaign will commence in a few weeks. It is the purpose of the advertising staff to contact all potential advertisers for the yearbook. A 10% commission will be awarded to the seller for each ad that he procures. Any member of the student body who can secure an ad from a firm in his locale is advised to do so. He need not be a member of the advertising staff to receive the standard ten per cent commission.

On November 5th, 6th, and 7th all underclass and activities pictures will be taken by the Van Tine studio. Harry C. Jacobson, '53, is in charge of arrangements. Paul F. Donohue, '53, activities editor, will assist him.

The contract for the book was awarded to the firm of Baker, Jones, Hausauer and Savage of Buffalo in early September.

Benediction Service To Open Students Retreat

By John Kennedy

Four days of spiritual exercises will replace books and studies next week with the opening of the Annual Retreat on Tuesday evening. Benediction for Seniors and Freshmen at 8 p.m., and for Juniors and Sophomores at 8:30 p.m., will open the exercises.

Father Barry

A former Holy Cross Physics teacher and prefect, the Rev. Thomas A. Fay, S.J., will conduct the Senior retreat. Father Fay served at Xavier High School during his regency and taught physics for a number of years at Boston College. He was also assistant director of working men's retreat in South End in Boston, and a chaplain during World War II.

Retreat Master for Juniors and Sophomores will be the Rev. Eugene J. O'Keefe, S.J. A member of the Holy Cross class of 1925, Father O'Keefe has had considerable retreat experience, being stationed for some time at the Jesuit retreat house in Albany. As a scholastic he taught in the Philippines and later served as an army chaplain in the Pacific. He is presently stationed at the Manresa retreat house on Staten Island.

The Freshman sessions will be conducted by the Rev. Paul F. Barry, S.J., who teaches religion and public speaking at Holy Cross. Father Barry spent some years as Student Counsellor at Boston College High School and has had wide experience in retreats. In the past he has conducted many of the Senior Retreats at Holy Cross.

The students will gather twice each morning and once in the afternoon and evening.

Traditionally the exercises follow the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius, and include such subjects as man's purpose, death, judgment and hell.

T'HAWK TO RUN ELECTION POLL

Tonight at 9:30 p.m., the resident student body will be afforded an opportunity to decide who will be our next President. The TOMAHAWK will conduct a straw poll, the results of which will appear in next week's issue.

Each corridor on campus will be covered by TOMAHAWK reporters who will query the students on their presidential choice. Furthermore, opinion on the McCarthy question and the possibility of a third major political party will be tabulated. Finally, Crusaders will state whether they favor straight party voting irrespective of the candidate, or not.

Day students will vote by means of individual ballots which will be available in the Locker Room tomorrow.

In a poll held under TOMAHAWK sponsorship last April, over 900 students cast ballots for the major candidates. In a very close race, Eisenhower edged out Taft by 37 votes; while Senator Kefauver led the Democratic candidates with 65 votes.

SCHOOL CITED BY INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION

Holy Cross was cited last week by the Institute of International Education for participation in the international student exchange movement, a program dedicated to "the advancement of world understanding."

The Institute lauded Holy Cross for taking part in the program with 140 other American colleges and universities. It presented Reverend John A. O'Brien, S.J., with a citation for activities in "bettering the foreign relations of the United States through the medium of the international exchange of persons."

Two German students, Gottfried Klein and Fritz Terofel, were enrolled at Holy Cross last year under the auspices of this agency.

The Institute of International Education is a privately owned organization which annually arranges for 1000 Americans to study in sixty foreign lands. In co-operation with hundreds of other American educational institutions, the Institute brings 3000 foreign students each year into the United States. It is also the agency which interviews American students for the government-awarded Fulbright fellowships.

REFRESHER COURSE

Many large and alert corporations, to assure the efficiency of their workers, periodically conduct refresher courses in the skills connected with their work, the commodity they are producing or selling, and the all-important personal efficiency and effectiveness. Next week Holy Cross suspends classes for four days in order that it may give a most effective refresher course in the most important subject the college teaches—growth in personal sanctity. We don't have to add the fairly obvious fact that this all-important brush-up period is the annual Retreat.

Next week the Holy Cross student will sit at the feet of expert theologians and review the art of personal holiness. From their lips he will learn once again the pitfalls and dangers to avoid, the most effective practices to follow, and rules of right conduct and ethical behavior in this vast and tricky business of life.

And their learned teachers will give Holy Cross men a full picture of their Faith. Once again the life of Christ will pass before us in vivid picture, once again the implication and application of the pages of the Gospels and Epistles will make themselves crystal clear, and once again we will be able to see through the hazy world to a full appreciation of the God Who made us.

But most important of all the lessons in next week's refresher course is the personal efficiency and effectiveness that will be repaired, tightened and braced. The phrase "personal stock-taking" is too trite to be used here, but the meaning behind it is never too trite to be the essential part of the Retreat. Any man who does not profit from next week's Retreat is not worthy to be called a Holy Cross man. Failing the Retreat is like failing a major subject at Holy Cross. This refresher course is designed to make us better Catholic men; let's see that it does.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS

The 1949 football season at Holy Cross is not one that Crusaders will recall with pride. We lost nine games that year, and salvaged but one victory. It was the worst season in Holy Cross history. But there was one bright phase of that season—Holy Cross spirit. Now spirit is something that has always been identified with Holy Cross, and that year even the team's most severe critics were proud of the cheering section. When Holy Cross rooters had every reason to give up on the team that was consistently losing for them, they cheered all the louder, climaxing their season with the most tremendous B. C. rally this campus has ever seen. It could never be said that the team lost because of poor student-body support.

But that was three years ago. Since then, Doctor Anderson has been called, and the sickly patient of 1949 is a robust, healthy youth who now sports four straight victories and great expectations for the games to come. And so it follows that the cheering should be that much louder this year. Or does it? Somewhere in the last three years, the cheers have died down, and instead of sounding like a wave of voices, the student section every Saturday sounds like a ripple. The rallies, packed at one time, are now sparsely attended, and those who do go are strangely quiet. The football team is frankly worried about this lack of support, as they make their final preparations for the Syracuse trip. Tomorrow the Purple Key is sponsoring a sendoff for the team as it leaves for its toughest game of the season. Let's be out there to lend our support to a group of great ball players.

STRAW VOTE

In the caf they were talking about Civil Rights, in the dining hall Tideland was the paramount issue; outside classrooms they were going over foreign policy, and in the rooms personalities were being discussed. Like all men who take their country seriously, Holy Cross students last week were talking politics. Those who are voting were deciding their selection; those who are underage were wishing that they were old enough. Next week, when the TOMAHAWK runs its presidential poll, everyone on campus will have a chance to participate. We don't have to ask everyone to cast a ballot in the TOMAHAWK poll; we know that Holy Cross men are interested enough in their country for that.

SATURDAY'S MOVIE

"Somebody Loves Me"

Cast: Betty Hutton, Ralph Meeker, Robert Keith, Billie Bird, and Adele Jergens.

Plot: A vaudeville star marries the man she loves and supports him in luxury until he determines to seek his own success.

Comment: Saturday's feature, a cheerful, Technicolor musical based on the careers of Blossom Seely and Benny Fields, vaudevillians of the gaudy era, might serve as a textbook example of film entertainment conceived for maximum mass consumption on the basis of minimum mass disturbance. Everything about it is as familiar, if not as comfortable as an old shoe.

Though "Somebody Loves Me" is a stereotyped backstage saga, unrelieved by originality of humor, it is, nevertheless, a remarkably easy way to hear a large number of the very best American popular songs plugged with streamlined zip by Betty Hutton and goosy but manly sentiment by Ralph Meeker.

The film begins with Miss Seely's cafe appearance right in the middle of the San Francisco earthquake. Later on Fields wishes to make his own theatrical way without Blossom's help. This almost wrecks their marriage, but all comes out happily, and the plot, indeed, scarcely interrupts the music.

Though the icing of this film and layer-cake is sometimes overrich and the filling sometimes stale, the nostalgic appeal of selections from yesterday's hit parade will, undoubtedly, provide some highly palatable portions of entertainment for all who venture to Kimball Saturday evening.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

It is a happy task for the members of the Dramatic Society to take this opportunity to thank Reverend Frederick A. Gallagher, S.J., for his splendid efforts in behalf of our presentation of "The Hasty Heart" before the Stamford Catholic Library group in Stamford, Connecticut.

It is a task only in the sense that adequate expressions of gratitude fail us in attempting to convey our thanks for the opportunity of performing again, before a large and new audience, and for the extraordinary lengths to which Father went in providing us with a most enjoyable stay in Stamford.

May the bountiful Lord continue to shower upon him His choicest blessings.

The Members of the Holy Cross Dramatic Society

Dear Len:

I am asking you to publish this letter, in order that a very erroneous impression which I seem to have created on an announcement to the student body last Thursday night, may be clarified.

The Athletic Association should be thanked instead of criticized for their action in behalf of the orphans at the Brown game. Mr. O'Connell offered me good seats not only for the orphans but for the students who acted as their "big brothers" as well. We, on the committee, however, felt that the boys would have much more fun if they sat with the students and We've noticed at football games in recent years, that invariably almost everyone stands up when the Varsity Song is played, thinking that it's the Alma Mater. We are great believers in tradition, and don't advocate the overthrow of "Oh, Tannenbaum" or "Maryland, My Maryland" or "The Holy Cross Alma Mater" (as it is variously known) for just any old song. However, it looks like we're going to have to change the Alma Mater to the Varsity Song, or announce before it is played that nobody will be allowed to stand, in respect, during its performance.

Hearing that strange changes had been made at the library, we (being familiar with the workings of the library or even its location) sent a friend of ours to investigate. The following, in the best "New Yorker" fashion, is his report:

"Arrived library eight p.m., Tuesday . . . seems to have changed very little since last visit in the Fall of '49 . . . noticed display of Bibles in entrance . . . no King James versions that we noticed . . . walked down Browsing Room, lighting up a pipe to get up the impression of an earnest student browsing through first editions and MSS . . . young gentleman in charge asked that pipe be put away as it was covering everything with a fine layer of volcanic-like ash. Complied with his request, got a drink of water and headed upstairs . . . still hadn't noticed any big changes.

"Went to Periodical Room . . . many magazines of interest: 'Beekman's Gazette,' 'Turbo-Jet News,' and 'Open Road For Boys' prominently displayed. Reached main reading room . . . same people there we saw on last visit . . . principal stock of place seems to be books . . . didn't notice any significant changes. Went to desk to talk with man obviously in charge . . . he was wearing brown double-breasted suit, red tie, and large Land Rover button . . . started to ask him who he was . . . was told to keep quiet . . . tried to explain who I was, what I was doing . . . only answer—'sh-h-h' . . . got revenge for this non-cooperation by changing date on his date stamp when he wasn't looking. Still hadn't seen any changes up to this point, and decided that it was all a rumor.

"Decided to leave and then noticed for first time the 'change' in the obstacle course at exit door . . . couldn't get through . . . too much banana and beer (never thought of that before—might make good combination) . . . while stuck there was frisked and searched . . . showed MY Land Rover button and was allowed out . . . had to promise to return in Spring . . . see Louise Imogene Guiney Room . . . don't think I will."

We can't vouch for our man's accuracy, but we promise we'll be there in the Spring.

TELEPHONE COMPANY FAVOR MALAYANS OVER HOLY CROSS

By Bill Brusstar

While passing through O'Kane lounge the other evening, we noticed a sizeable line of gentlemen queued up, apparently awaiting with great anticipation what lay at the head of the line. We naturally took up our position at the end of the line, thinking that whatever attracts such a crowd must be free. Four hours later, upon reaching the head of the line, we discovered that we had been waiting for a telephone. Having neither the capital nor the desire to avail ourselves of this hard-won privilege, we retired in confusion to our dormitory suite only to discover that we had missed the evening check by three hours and were in immediate danger of suspension.

Careful inquiry the following day yielded us the astounding intelligence that we students have access to only ten public telephones on campus, that the queues for telephones were no unusual thing, and indeed, earlier the previous evening the line had extended all the way to Graham Hill. This seemed to us a somewhat regrettable posture of affairs.

After prolonged consultation, the latest edition of the Atlas, we learned that our college has approximately the same number of pay telephones as does Malaya, and it would seem that the people of that region have an advantage over us in that they at least have the convenience of an outrigger canoe to a telephone in case of emergency. A similar solution here seems impracticable because of the paucity of navigable waterways in the vicinity.

Further investigation told us that if eight more telephones were installed here, we would be as progressive

HOLY CROSS BAND TO PERFORM AT SYRACUSE FOR FIRST TIME

Bruce C. Hoeffel, '54, student manager looks on as Edward T. Robinson, '54, student director, leads the marching band while they practice their Syracuse trip.

This Saturday, in the 36,000-seat Thibault Stadium at Syracuse, the marching band will entertain the first of the New York audience in its history. This is the band's initial trip to the fair of the "Orangemen."

Orange Have Top Band

Leaving at noon tomorrow, the 70-member entourage will reach its destination about 9 p.m. in chartered buses. There the group will be checked into the Yates Hotel, one of the largest in the city.

While the team will be facing one of the toughest opponents, the band will be competing against a top marching band in the East. Their field drill will be entirely dependent on the weather; if it is inclement and the weather is soggy, the chances are heavily against any such half-time maneuvers.

With a School of Music at the University, there is an abundant supply of talented musicians with which to make the 100-piece co-ed Marching Band. In another respect, Syracuse has been blessed; their drum major, Miss Dottie Grover of Freeport, Island, New York, is National Champion.

Mister Touchdown

Together with the traditional songs of the schools the Holy Cross aggregation will probably play the highly popular "Mr. Touchdown, U. S. A." Following the acclaim showered on the composition over last weekend, the bandmen are hoping to obtain the orchestration for the future. Over the tilt, the band has been invited to visit the St. Thomas More campus where they can visit their friends and acquaintances. Sunday they will reboard the train and head back along the Mount St. James Trail.

Plans are being made by the Holy Cross for a stag dance to be held Saturday, November 15, in the gymnasium. Full details will be printed in the next edition.

K of C TO HOLD MASS SATURDAY FOR MATTHEWS

On Saturday, October 25th at 6:30 a.m., Father Busam, S.J., chaplain of Crusader Council No. 2706, will celebrate a Requiem Mass in St. Joseph's Memorial Chapel for the repose of the soul of Francis P. Matthews, the recipient of an honorary L.L.D. degree from Holy Cross in 1951.

Mr. Matthews, an attorney and graduate of Creighton University, became the Secretary of the Navy in 1949 and was serving as American Ambassador to Ireland at the time of his death. While serving as Navy Secretary, the honorary Alumnus was the center of a controversy that resulted from his advocating war as a means to peace. The State Department, in a statement approved by Dean Acheson and the President, repudiated his preventive war suggestion.

A native Nebraskan, he was a devout Catholic and was the Supreme Knight of the K. of C. from 1938-44. Pope Pius XII made him a Secret Papal Chamberlain with Cape and Sword. He also was a Knight of Malta and a Knight of the Holy Sepulcher. Mr. Matthews was honored at Commencement Exercises in 1951 when he was presented with an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

"Ham" Radio Society To Build Transmitter

The construction of a small power supply and transmitter for use of novice operators is one of the new expansion plans of the Amateur Radio Society announced by Vice-President Donald Gavin, '53, this week.

Other plans include instructions in the use of the equipment in the club's "shack" located in the basement of Alumni. Classes will be held in the sending and receiving of Morse Code in order to qualify the beginners for their operator's licenses.

The "shack" is open to members every night with meetings scheduled every other Thursday. Officers of the Club are, Walter Steinberg, '53, president; Gavin, vice-president; and John Connolly as secretary.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT TO PUBLISH ARTICLE IN ALUMNI MAGAZINE

"The work of the Holy Cross Student Congress here on the Campus will be outlined in an article which will appear in the next edition of the Alumni News, quarterly magazine of the Holy Cross Alumni Association," stated John V. Dinan, '53, President of the Student Government, at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Denis E. O'Connor, '53, Chairman of Alumni Relations, will formulate this program designed to familiarize the Alumni of Holy Cross with the comparatively novel institution of a Student Congress here at the school.

Alexander Burke, '53, outlined the work which is being done by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. He stated that the program was being well received throughout the city.

The results and accomplishments of the National Convention of the NFCCS, which was held at Notre Dame this summer, were reported by Joseph J. Corry, '54, new Senior NFCCS Delegate. Corry was elected National Vice-President in charge of social action at the convention.

WCHC SPOTLIGHT

With retreat week just around the corner, WCHC will suspend its broadcasting for the duration of the spiritual exercises. Your campus station will go off the air after the Tuesday afternoon signoff and will resume broadcasting come the following Monday afternoon.

Nevertheless, 645 on your dial still has tonight's, Friday's and Monday's feature programs set for your entertainment. Tonight at 8:30, the "Radio Playshop" will take to the air with a performance of "A Cause For Parting" with Katherine Jerome, Bob Ghisays and Bob Meyer in leading roles. Friday at 8:30, Art Weller will tour the land with his "Cruising Crusader" program. 8:30 on Monday night is the time for the second presentation of "Twenty Questions." Monday at 10 will find Dick Kiernan and Joe Gleason on hand with "Spotlight On Sports."

HISTORY SOCIETY TO REPRESENT SCHOOL AT LOCAL NFCCS MEETING

On Saturday, October 25, the History Society will journey to Regis College to represent Holy Cross at the Workshop Meeting of the NFCCS International Relations Commission.

The following day, Sunday, October 27, will see the Executive Board of the Catholic Student Peace Federation meeting at Holy Cross as guests of the History Society. The meeting will be held in Kimball Hall at 3 p.m.

Although the annual Spring Convention of the Peace Federation will be held at Fairfield University, the delegates at Fairfield requested that this preliminary meeting be held here for the convenience of the New England delegates. John S. Keegan of Fairfield, president of the Federation will preside. Richard F. Doyle, '53, president of the Resident Students History Society, and John J. Kelliher, '53, president of the Day Students Chapter, will be hosts to the delegates.

so, because of the already crowded condition of the student section, the plan to ask students not attending the game to give up their seats was agreed upon. I myself can only be deeply grateful to Mr. O'Connell not only for all the help he gave me but also for his own personal donation of programs for the youngsters.

I hope that the above information has cleared up the misunderstanding which seems to exist about this matter, and my thanks to the donors of their seats and the "big brothers" for their generous support of the program.

BJF ANNOUNCES NEW SCHEDULE

The BJF Debating Society last week swelled their '52-'53 schedule of debates by the addition of several new dates. The tentative Nov. 6 debate with the University of Connecticut was confirmed, and on December 6 the debaters will visit New York University.

A home-and-home series with Harvard University for the first week in November was assured, with the exact dates forthcoming. The Worcester State Teachers will come to Holy Cross on November 19. The subject of these debates will be the national topic: "Resolved: That the Congress of the United States should enact a Compulsory Fair Employment Practices Law."

The Society has also sent contact letters to several women's colleges, including Wellesley, Regis, Emmanuel, New Rochelle, and Manhattanville. A forum with Newton College of the Sacred Heart has been secured for November 25. It will be held here and broadcast over WCHC.

BJF novices have scheduled the following debates: Brown University on November 12, Emerson College on November 12, December 6 at Barnard College, Worcester State Teachers on October 28, and New Rochelle on December 2.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday the Society conducted several house debates on the national topic. Taking part were Jerome J. Moga, '54, Frederick T. McGonigle, '54, James L. Fahey, '54, Louis A. Craco, '54, Edward J. McAniff, '56, Martin E. Palmer, '55, Arthur J. Frawley, '53, Edgar J. Winters, '53, Joseph P. Kerwin, '53, Charles E. Rice, '53, Bernard T. Hopkins, '55, and John L. McCarthy, '55.

AIR FORCE NOTES

Lt. Colonel James T. Murray, commander of the AFROTC unit at Holy Cross, and the Very Reverend John A. O'Brien, president of the college, recently attended a conference for the Air Force PAST officers and college presidents, which was held at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama.

The meeting was called for the purpose of resolving the problems of college presidents and their working relationships with PAST officers. Many outstanding men in the field of education were in attendance at the two-day session which was highlighted by an address by General Hoyt Vandenberg, commander of the United States Air Force.

The AFROTC band, under the direction of John G. Weg, '55, has been holding regular rehearsals during the past few weeks and now consists of 28 pieces. Professor Fredrick S. Mirliani, '32, has been acting as faculty adviser for the group.

The Air Force color guard will march with the football band at the Colgate game on November 8 and the Temple game on November 22. Plans are also being made to have the unit drill team participate in half-time activities at one of the future games. No definite date has been fixed yet.

It was announced that on Wednesday, November 5, the entire AFROTC unit would be reorganized into a wing, with two groups and six squadrons. Under the new system, Air Science 1 and 2 cadets will be joined together in the hope of expediting the present drill procedures.

Sodality Pledges Aid In Support Of Mission

The adoption and the concentration of our spiritual and financial support on a particular mission or missionary is the new plan of the Sodality's Mission Committee. The purpose of this plan is to make the students of Holy Cross more conscious of the missions and their needs.

John A. Roach, '54, chairman of the Committee, announced the methods by which this program will be effected. One day a week will be set aside as a mission day with the Rosary said for that intention. A mass will be said every three weeks for our adopted mission. In addition to this, Spiritual Bouquets will be sent to some missionaries at Christmas and Easter.

In order to secure financial aid, a threefold plan will be formulated. A special Lenten mission drive will be undertaken. A mite box in Kimball on the first Friday of each month is also planned.

The most important aspect of material support will be a clothing drive. This will be organized among the student body at Christmas. A similar campaign will also be conducted during the second semester. However, at this time the clothes will be collected through some society in Worcester.

Roach also disclosed the formation of a stamp committee. They will start the collection of stamps on the corridors within the next few weeks.

The students and faculty of the college extend their deepest sympathies to William E. McCole, '53, on the death of his mother. She will be remembered in our prayers.

NAVY NOTES

Howard J. West, '53, co-chairman of the Military Ball which will be held in the Fieldhouse on November 8, disclosed today that Joseph E. Brennan, '53, has organized a Date Bureau. The dates will include both Worcester girls, and girls from nearby colleges. The bureau staff includes Dean J. Shipman, '53, and Joseph R. Fogarty, '53. It was also announced that a queen will be picked at the dance.

Capt. James W. Bateman, USMC, announced that both the junior and senior divisions of the Platoon Leaders Corps will have their training at Quantico, Virginia, next summer. Members will be given the choice of a training period from June 15 to July 25, or July 27 to September 5. New candidates are urged to apply soon, so they will have a better chance of getting their chosen training period. It was also pointed out that the Eighth Officer Candidate course will be conducted at Quantico from July 9 to September 19. All seniors who are interested should see Captain Bateman at the Navy Office in the library.

Cross Meets Powerful Orangemen Saturday

Strong Syracuse Line And Good Backs Present Test For Cross

Syracuse Eleven, Trowned By Michigan State, Still Poses Serious Threat To Unbeaten Cross

By Bob Unsworth

Holy Cross' undefeated and well-liked football team, its wounds caused by blazing victories over New England University and Brown, will enter real trouble this Saturday afternoon when it locks horns with a powerful Syracuse eleven at Syracuse. The Orange are big and aggressive. Coach Floyd Schwartzwalder has produced a dynamic offensive unit which packs a tremendous wallop on the ground from its varied unbalanced line—"T" and winged—"T" formations. Early season difficulties of the defensive unit having been lightened out, the Orangemen are touted as one of the strongest in the East.

Light offensive regulars are back from last year's squad. So are nine defensive regulars, and all departures are stocked with size and speed. Coach Schwartzwalder rates the offensive line as the best he has coached, and is rightfully proud of an alert senior-junior combination averaging 209 pounds from end to end. Leadmen in the line are a rugged, 192-pound end named Szombathy, and a rugged two-tackle trio of tackle Nick Rahal, guard Bob Fleck, and guard Les Molland. The remainder of the line wall is made up of three heavies, Carl Karilivacz at end, Beyer at guard, and Jim Ringo at the ball at center.

Behind the crisp blocking of this line, Bill Wetzel, fullback, and Ed Doblowski, left halfback, have enough yardage in their first few games to rank them among the top ground-gainers in the nation. A 205-pound sophomore, returned from Korea, and has been a surprising revelation in his initial year of varsity play. Doblowski, a small (150-pound) senior back, is a perfect outside threat. Both are strong, clever runners who can go all the way. Art Troilo, another sophomore, is at the other wing. In the pilot seat at quarterback is a junior from Syracuse named Pat Stark. A fine ball handler, he has quickly developed into a dangerous passer. The only major injuries have been sustained by Wetzel, who will probably be out of the line-up.

At that, Syracuse's opponents can only breathe a sigh of relief when they realize how potentially strong "the Orange" would have been had they not lost the services of their safety man and punter par excellence, Avatus Stone. Syracuse's regular quarterback in last year's campaign, Stone was knocked out of action for the entire campaign with a knee injury, suffered just two days before the opening game. Undoubtedly, the stunning blow had a lot to do with the Orange's loss to Bowling Green in the first game. However, they bounced back to win over Harry Agganis' Boston University, Temple, and Cornell before last Saturday's massacre at the hands of Michigan State's army of muscle.

On defense, the Orange have Yaple, Dan Reimer, Joe Perry, Bill Skynskus, Mike Skop and Herb Steigler playing up front. Nick Volger, Neil Brenneman and Al Vergara will share the linebacking duties, with Don Alt-house, who also has inherited Stone's punting assignment. All in all, it has the makings of a pretty tough little tea party.

CHET MILLETT SEEMS LIKE SURE REPEATER ON ALL-AMERICA LIST

By Tom Dolan

Number sixty-one will go down the pages of Holy Cross history as a numeral worn by none other than our own All-America guard, Chet Millett. Two hundred pounds of football dynamite, packed solidly in a five-foot-ten frame, aptly defined "Mr. Football" here on the campus of Boston, Massachusetts, lays claim to the state as its native son, where he was born 21 years ago. Chet began his rapid rise to fame at Brockton High, where he compiled an outstanding record in athletics, playing varsity football, baseball and hockey. Brockton copped the New England Football Championship in Chet's senior year. Adding to their fame, the team journeyed South to the Orange Bowl where they soundly trounced Edson High of Miami to the tune of 35-0.

Won All-America Honors

Coming to Holy Cross in the fall of 1949, Chester continued on his way to fame, starring on that year's Freshman squad, and he moved up in his Sophomore year to a starting berth on the varsity forward wall. In his Junior year, Chet really came into his own, so much so that he was picked on LOOK magazine's first All-America defensive team. He was also the recipient of the Matthew S. Golden Award, presented to the outstanding Catholic football player in the nation each year.

This year Chet seems to have picked up where he left off last season. Hampered by a pulled ligament, he has been on the sidelines for the past two weeks. In the Dartmouth game, he will be remembered for the fine work he did in the goal-line stand against the "Big Green." He operated on both the offensive and

Purple Harriers Meet Providence Tomorrow

Practice Drills To Begin Soon For Indoor Season; Bob Shea Tenth In Meet

The Holy Cross harriers engage their perennial rivals tomorrow as they take off for Providence for their meet against Providence College on the P.C. campus. Both varsity and freshman teams will compete.

Last week's journey to Boston proved not completely unsuccessful, as the hill-and-dalers made a good showing against some of the top cross country teams in New England—Brown, M.I.T. and Boston University. Johnny Kelley of B.U. led the pack home, followed by Mel Farquhar of M.I.T., and Tom Reid of Brown.

Bobby Shea led the Holy Cross team in the scoring, coming in tenth in 23:55. The Worcester sophomore was followed by Bob Corboy, Paul Murphy, Joe Devane, Ed Coughlin, and Bruce McConnachie.

The same starting six will make the trip to Providence tomorrow afternoon to engage Coach Harry Coates' Friar harriers. "Pops" Johnson and the other great distance men from Providence have departed, but Chris Lohner and his mates are still a strong crew. Nevertheless, the Crusaders are hoping to break into the win column for the first time in two years.

The freshman team, making its first start of the season, will be led by George Assenheimer, John Cronin, Frank McGinnity and Pete Callaghan. Assenheimer ran alone in the freshman meet last Friday at Franklin Park, finishing tenth against New England's best frosh.

Tomorrow's meet, however, will be the last of the season for the cross country team. Next week and the week after they will begin working out for the indoor season, which will take them to New York, Boston, and Amherst for their meets. Present plans include emphasis on a two-mile relay team anchored by Bruce McConnachie, the strong half-miler from New York.

McConnachie, renowned in high school as one of the top 880 and 1000-yard men in the city, has been running quarter miles for two years at Holy Cross. With the promise of a return to his favorite distance, Bruce has been redoubling his effort for the new season.

Other prospects for the two-mile relay include Paul Murphy, the outstanding freshman on last year's team who ran a 4:23.8 mile and a 1:57.7 half; Joe Devane, the versatile middle distance expert from Seton Hall Prep; Bob Corboy, last year's winning two-miler; and John Donahue, recently returned to Holy Cross after a year's absence.

Latest statistics released by the A.A. show that Lou Hettinger is now leading the Crusader backs with a net gain of 149 yards. He is followed by Gene Schiller with 104 yards and Joe Harrington with 97. Charley Maloy has now completed 42 of 92 passes for 552 yards. Jack Carroll leads the receivers with 21 completions. He and Tony Parisi head the scorers with 24 points apiece.

A RUNNER TOO . . . Charley Maloy resorts to the ground route as he dashes past the Brown secondary on 42-yard T.D. sprint.

CRUSADERS SHINE AS PURPLE SOUNDLY THUMPS BROWN, 46-0

By Matt Boylan

Charley Maloy's unexpected rambling and the devastating downfield blocking of its forward wall produced a combination for Holy Cross that roundly thumped a valiant but ineffectual Brown team, 46-0, before 8,500 thrill-delighted fans last Saturday at Fitton Field. It was their fourth straight and, by far, best performance of the season.

When the defensive team, whose play was outstanding all day, forced Brown to punt in the early minutes of the game, "Chick" Murphy gathered in Wilson's screaming kick, faked a reverse to O'Leary and, aided by some excellent blocks, triggered his way 46 yards to the 23-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Maloy pitched to Hettinger on the 4 whence he bolted across for the score. Parisi added the extra point. He was later to hit four out of seven along with scoring a six-pointer himself.

Stymied again on the ensuing kick-off, Wilson punted out to the Cross 44. After a couple of short gains by the sparkling Hettinger, a pass to Tom Carstens set the pattern for Maloy's marginal threading of the entire Brown team. After faking to Harrington, Charley burst off left tackle, cut back to the right and, behind the blocking of Rimkus, Biocca and Cooney, glided to pay-dirt. The placement by Parisi was good.

As Brown failed to do much in the way of blocking for Kessaris, a fine back, Holy Cross began a 67-yard drive which culminated at 1:03 of the second quarter with Parisi bulling across from the 2. Though the remainder of the quarter was scoreless, Mike Heffernan kept the fans bedazzled as he roared 87 yards behind a quartet of blockers with an intercepted pass before being downed on the Bruin 12. A fumble squandered this scoring opportunity and Brown actually enjoyed the upper hand for the remainder of the half.

After the officials ruled that O'Leary had stepped out on the 30th of his 100-yard scamper with the second half kick-off, Maloy and Co. ground out 70 yards, the old-fashioned way, before Charley plunged across from the 1. Capitalizing on Owen Coogan's recovery of a fumble on the Brown 29, the Crusaders, piloted by Pat Ryan, pushed across another score late in the period. Parisi's two-with-one block opened the way for Ryan's 9-yard sortie.

Within three minutes of the fourth quarter, Tom Carstens, a neat end both ways for fifty minutes, set the stage for the last two scores. Murphy punched over from the one. And, on the ensuing kickoff, Carstens streaked down to capture the live ball as it rolled unheeded to the 17. Joe O'Brien drove and twisted his way across from the 11 for the final stitches in the "Doctor's" patient.

Though Don Jolie's needle-sharp passing kept Holy Cross continually within scoring range, penalties kept FOURTH DOWN, SIX TO GO . . .

As each week passes by, and the Crusaders continue to roll to one victory after another, folks around these parts begin to chatter, and quite naturally so, of the possibilities of an undefeated season for the Crusaders. And even though Doctor Anderson would frown pessimistically at the slightest conception of an undefeated season after eight, much less four, games, it still looms as one aspect which is definitely worth consideration.

Let's look at the calendar of coming events. Syracuse, of course, looms as the big threat in the immediate future. Actually, their record isn't as impressive as one would be inclined to believe. In five games to date, "The Orange" have lost to Bolling Air Force Base, 13-12, and top-ranked Michigan State, 48 to 7. Their three victories have been over a mediocre B. U., a fair Temple squad that has won only one in five games and a Cornell team that has dropped four in a row.

Then too, the boys from Syracuse should be physically beaten after last week's drubbing by Michigan State, while the Cross will be at top strength with the return of Millett and Schiller. On the basis of these physical aspects, the defensive club's dazzling play and the magnificent Maloy's maneuvering, we pick the Cross by a conservative 20 to 7 score.

TO MILWAUKEE AND HOME AGAIN . . .

On the following Saturday, the Crusaders journey to Milwaukee to meet a Marquette team that could well be more troublesome than Syracuse. The "Golden Avalanche" has won three out of four so far this season and will be "up" for the Cross. Marquette's defensive club, though, which allowed Wisconsin to score 42 points and Detroit 27, should be vulnerable enough to let Maloy and friends make a day of it.

The Cross returns home the following week to meet Colgate which thus far has won three times in four starts. The three clubs Colgate has beaten, though, haven't won once in 13 games. Temple, next on the schedule, has won only one game in five starts, and just doesn't seem to have the push to beat the Cross. The Crusaders should win both of these without too much trouble.

Quantico's Marines, 4 and 2 on the year, and the Eagles of Boston College, all records barred, pose the biggest threats in the latter stages of the campaign. Quantico, as usual, is loaded with talent (Feltch, Foley, Murphy, Cullity and DeChard of former Crusader clubs are among their many stars) and, should they explode, the Cross will have trouble on its hands. And, as the results of the long series have borne out, the Holy Cross-B. C. game could very well go either way regardless of the records of the respective clubs.

Now there they are. Can the Crusaders win them all? We think so. But it's going to take a lot of drive, a lot of luck, a lot of fight and a lot of spirit to push them all the way. BUT WHERE IS THE SPIRIT? . . .

But the spirit just doesn't seem to be here. Last Friday night, for instance, a disgraceful gathering of 150 to 200 students found their way to the rally. And they just don't yell in the stands any more. As one member of the band told it, "All of us in the band were cheering at the Fordham game. Very few of the students were yelling at all and some of them actually turned around and looked at us as if to say, 'What's the matter with you guys? are you crazy or something?'"

Of course, there is something to be said for the students. Most Cross men are far from pleased with this year's schedule which includes such weak teams as N. Y. U., Temple and Brown and a Quantico game which has no collegiate background whatsoever. The Cross students insist, and with some justification, that they cannot arouse any enthusiasm for these games. The schedule, though, isn't the fault of the team, and since these tilts are billed so far in advance, it isn't the fault of the A. A. either.

The "Purple Key" is hopelessly puzzled about this intricate problem and is looking for your constructive criticism. If you have anything constructive to say, say it. In the first step for a renewal of Holy Cross spirit, the "Key" is sponsoring a big sendoff rally for the Syracuse game tomorrow after lunch. Let's all get behind the Crusaders and send them off to the "big" game of the year. It will be well worth your while.

TOUCHDOWN TONY . . . Tony Parisi (17), bursts through a big hole in the Brown forward wall to score in the Brown game. Vic Rimkus (77) and John Carroll throw key blocks to open hole.

Football, Tennis, and Golf Highlight Intramural Program

Although there were three cancellations and a forfeit, intramural football enjoyed its second week of rugged and spirited activity. Tennis and golf competition was also strong as the participants advanced in tourney play.

First, to football: On Tuesday, gridiron action got under way in spectacular fashion as Wheeler I ground out an impressive victory over Campion, 19-0. The scoring was done by Joe Walsh, Rocco DeMarino and Ed Donavon with Tom McShane adding the extra point. Also in League "A" competition, Tom Rappel scored the TD and Frank Probanda the extra point as Wheeler III won over O'Kane III, 7-0. In League "B," O'Kane IV eked out a 13-12 win over Alumni III by virtue of an extra point by Simon Leis. Joe Reisch racked up two touchdowns for Alumni as did Art O'Keefe for O'Kane.

Two games were played on Thursday with O'Kane III vanquishing Wheeler I, 18-0, in League "A," and the Worcester Sophs defeating Beaven I in League "B." Again, it was Frank Probanda and Tom Rappel leading their team to victory, the former scoring two TD's and the latter, one. In the Worcester Sophs' victory, we regret that the scoring was not recorded.

On the final day of football activity three games were played. The Worcester Frosh aggregation did not show up, so Carlin I was awarded a 2-0 forfeit victory. In the second game, Alumni II shut out Campion, 6-0, to complete League "A" action. In an overtime tussle, Beaven III repulsed Wheeler IV, 7-6. Joe Kelly scored the first TD on a pass from Paul Collins and Wheeler led, 6-0. But Bob Seidel came back for Beaven and scored the tying touchdown. In the overtime period, the fiery Juniors ground out the most yardage and thus were credited with the one-point victory. In the final game of the week, Carlin II routed the Off-Campus "B" team in a high-scoring affair, 26-6. Fred Conlin and Bill Brennan each registered a touchdown and extra point while Bill Hines and Jim Hamilton rounded out the Carlin scoring. Gerry Schaumber tallied the lone marker for the Off-Campus club.

The cancellations consisted of the Wheeler IV and Off-Campus "B" game scheduled for Tuesday and the Carlin III vs. Worcester Juniors and Alumni I vs. Dorm "B" games scheduled for Thursday.

In the golf tournament, three men advanced into third round play. Bob Cooney, who has displayed outstanding form, defeated Wally Mahoney. Jack Brady and Jack McDermott also won their second round matches, defeating Ted Gallagher and Lou Kuttner, respectively.

Tennis Tourney

There was plenty of action in the tennis tourney with six men forging ahead into the third round. Bob Galli won over Lou Craco, 6-3, 6-3, and Walt Gillis overpowered Bob Leflamme, 6-4, 6-3. Ed Hecht, who has been consistently impressive from the start, defeated Lou Kuttner. The results of other matches were: Pete Reiss over Joe Keefe, Joe McOwen over Dick Hamilton and Pat Scott over Bob Hennessy.

Going into the third week of play, it is hoped that all participants will watch the schedules closely and appear for their engagements so that Father Hart will be able to keep the records complete and up-to-date.

The Holy Cross Intramural League, under the direction of Fr. Francis J. Hart, S.J., will sponsor an Intramural swimming meet at the Lincoln Square Boys' Club on Thursday and Friday evenings, November 6 and 7. Preparations for the meet are being made by the Varsity swimming team, who will officiate at the various events. Co-Captains Joe Kerwin and Herbert Gallagher, together with Manager Dick Barnes and Assistant Manager George McManus have spent much time and energy to make the affair a splashing success.

They have made arrangements for practice sessions to be held Monday through Thursday from 3 to 4 o'clock at the Lincoln Square Boys' Club the week of the meet. The preliminary will be held on Thursday night at 8:30, with the finals the following evening at the same time.

Entry forms will be put in the boxes on Friday and the entries will be listed on the bulletin boards next week. The events are the: 50-yard freestyle, the 50-yard breaststroke, the 50-yard backstroke, the 100-yard freestyle, the 200-yard freestyle and the 150-yard medley relay.

All students except varsity swimmers may compete. Intramural prizes will be awarded to individual winners and a prize will be given to all members of the winning class. Transportation will be provided for entries to practices and to the meet.

SPORTS VIEWS

Frank Geishecker and Jim Snyder
That loud thud you just heard was the fabulous percentage we were boasting about last week. Our strictly fabulous .850 average of last week now hovers around the .727 mark. The teams we counted on to upset didn't upset, and the "sure things" let us down.

Now let's hit the silk:
HOLY CROSS over Syracuse in the game of the day or even of the year. Syracuse had a terrible day against the Spartans of Michigan last week, and the Crusaders sharpened up their ground attack against weakened Brown. It will be tough one all the way, but we are looking for the Purple to show their stuff.

FORDHAM over Boston College with certain misgivings. Both teams lost last weekend, but Fordham is the more likely to strike back. We have seen how good Fordham is, and we don't see how the Eagles could be any better.

PENN over Navy is a perennially sure contest. These old rivals always square up even the Navy Day weekend, but Friday's afraid the Red and Blue is just a Prep-tough for the lads from the Banks made the Severn this time.

RINCETON over Cornell in a contest that might see the end of Lefty Herbes up at Ithaca. The Tigers are a potent, and well rested. The manager Red may never get going.

HARVARD over Dartmouth in a affair over at Cambridge. Both teams have looked impressive on occasions, but we'll stick with the Crimson (as we should have last week).

ARMY over Columbia. It will take more than a Mitch Price to beat the varsity this week; "Red" Blaik's boys are really due.

MARYLAND over Louisiana State. That might prove tougher than it looks. LSU always has good football in its system, and this week should be a fine one to pull an upset.

OHIO STATE over Iowa in another one of the Big Ten things. The Buckeyes stick with the Buckeyes, the worst upset kings.

ILLINOIS over Purdue in a pulse-racing. The Boilermakers won't play another game like last week (they fumbled 11 times Saturday) and Illinois will be out to even the score that Minnesota upset.

WISCONSIN over UCLA for no reason but to get back at the Bruins for upsetting our Stanford last week.

KANSAS over Southern Methodist in a wide-open contest. Kansas soundly outlasted the radio last week, though Oklahoma outlasted the Sooners and Southern Methodist is better than this year.

WASHINGTON over Stanford in a titanic special on the Coast. The teams are evenly divided on this game, but the right arm of Don Henrich has us over the big legs of the Mathias.

SOUTHERN CAL over California for the Pacific Coast crown. We don't know about this one either, but the Trojans seem to be the Coast's best team this year. We'll string them up with them.

GEORGIA TECH over Vanderbilt. Engineers have the stuff this year, and we don't think that they'll be disappointed this week.

In the game of the week, the Staters have been waiting for—NO STATE over Occidental. The Staters may be weeping and gnashing their teeth after this pick, but the Staters are a real powerhouse this year; they are for the Rose Bowl, no doubt.

PURPLE CAGE QUINTET CROSSES HILL, DALE IN OPENING DRILLS

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching." Well, not quite the same stride, but the idea is the same. Actually, they're running.

The latest edition of the Holy Cross basketball Crusaders are on the run again. Since a week ago yesterday, the majority of the candidates for this year's squad have been running the hills of Mt. St. James to get in shape for the start of practice.

Many Stars Back

Among the boys who have been seen prancing along the edge of Freshman Field at about four o'clock every day are such standouts as Earle Markey, the brilliant captain-elect; Ron Perry and Bob "Seymour" Magilligan, two of our fastest men; Dave Nangle and Jim Kielley, our towering pivot men; and, of course, the inimitable Togo Palazzi, last year's top scorer.

These are the boys who will make up the nucleus of the squad, but every team has to have a good "bench" and this one is no exception. Fortunately, we have some outstanding prospects among the boys from last year's Jayvees, as well as some varsity holdovers who could well give the others a hard fight for starting berths. Included in the first group are Jimmy Lewis, Ken Snyder, Joe Early and Frank Kasprzak, all three of whom led the Little Crusaders last year. The varsity holdovers include Wally Suprunowicz and Fran Dyson, both capable, speedy men.

After the boys have finished their daily jaunt through the hills, they have been taking a short session of foul shooting before adjourning to the shower room.

Regular practice for the team, is expected to begin soon.

defensive units in the Fordham game. Chester feels that he is ready for the trip to Syracuse this Saturday. Dr. Anderson has hinted that Chet will be used "both ways" against the "Orangemen."

To Become Officer

Holy Cross' loss will be the U.S. Marines' gain when Chet graduates this June. Chet has been spending his recent summers at Quantico where he is enrolled in the Marine Platoon Leader Course. Upon his graduation, he will receive his Second Lieutenant's commission. As for his future plans, Millett hopes to either play "pro" football or to obtain a coaching position. Chet is now a Bachelor of Science in Education major.

Good luck, Chet, we know you can't miss in any further endeavor. You will be great in the future because you have been great in the past.

his receivers', Ney and Shapley, from scoring. A Kohut-to-Pearson pass late in the game almost netted a score but Dave Sheehan's recovery of a fumble on the 12-yard line erased this opportunity.

Despite the disparity between the two teams, Doctor Anderson's early and often use of substitutes prevented the score from reaching astronomical heights and enabled him to rest his charges for Saturday.

FRENCH CLUB TO PARTICIPATE IN CONVENTION AT EMMANUEL

The Holy Cross French Club will participate in the "Fete Internationale," which will be held November 22, at Emmanuel College. Conrad K. Cyr, '53, president of the club, announced that six students from the school will attend the convention, sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of the NFCCS.

The highlight of the convention will be a play presented by Emmanuel College. The clubs of the various participating colleges will put the lyrics of old French ballads to the music of modern songs with the winner of the contest determined by a vote, following the play.

John D. O'Connell, '53, editor of Le Croise, the club paper, is formulating plans for the first issue, which is expected in mid November. O'Connell, an AB Greek Honor student was the leader of his class for the 1951-52 academic year.

Cyr stated that the remaining officers will be appointed in the near future. Tentative plans call for a play to be given in the spring. The club meets every Friday at 1 p.m. in Room 42 Carlin.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB HEARS GIBBONS TALK ON ELECTIVISM

At the Tuesday night meeting of the Human Relations Club, John M. Gibbons, '54, illustrated many of the dangers which befall the student as a result of rampant electivism.

John D. Matthews, '54, gave a brief exposition on the "Ratio Studiorum" and told about modifications of electivism such as the one at Holy Cross. Following this Gibbons delivered a short treatise on the historical background of the subject. He mentioned that strict electivism, directly opposed to the "Ratio," began under President Eliot of Harvard in the 1880's.

William A. Bauman, '54, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

At this gathering the group also considered the possibility of future joint convocation with the International Relations and Leo XIII Clubs of Regis College. Similar gatherings are being planned with local Worcester Colleges. It was also decided that the time of meetings should be changed to Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in Lower Carlin.

James G. Wallace, '54, stated compactly the purpose of the Human Relations Club at Holy Cross.

IRJ ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS

New appointments and plans for the coming year were disclosed last week by both the NFCCS Regional and Campus IRJ groups.

Ted E. Wedemeyer, '54, chairman of the NFCCS-IRJ Commission, has announced the appointments to the offices of Vice-Chairman and Secretary of the Interracial Justice Regional Commission. They are: James E. Cannon, '54, and Leo M. McMahon, '54, respectively. Also selected to serve on the speaker's bureau for the coming year are: James E. Enright, '54, Edward J. Lee, '54, Arthur R. Fitzgerald, '54, John H. Yauch, '54, and Paul L. Guiffre, '54.

On Sunday, October 26, at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, the IRJC of the New England region will conduct a workshop from 2-4 p.m. The purpose of this workshop will be to acquaint everyone with commission procedures and work. All those who are interested in attending are cordially invited.

Tonight, in Carlin 44, the controversial topic of the Fair Employment Practices Commission will be discussed by the campus IRJ unit. William J. White, '53, is the discussion leader. Rudolph A. Oswald, '54, chairman of the local group, announced that John H. Yauch, '54, an AB-Political Science student from South Orange, N.J., has been elected secretary. The new officer will replace Edward Wetzels, '55, who has resigned to become NFCCS Junior delegate.

TELEPHONE—

(Continued from Page Two) with regard to telephones, as South Rhodesia in Africa, but again people there can always mount an elephant, in case of emergency, reach the nearest telephone. To avoid ourselves of the similar advantage huge barns would have to be erected on campus to house the beasts, would, in turn, have to be imported at no little expense. This solution, too, we feel, would be impractical because those who are hired to keep our sidewalks clean would be deterred with a new and repugnant task. We have often thought of suggesting to someone in a responsible position here that more telephones might profitably be installed, but being genetically timid, we have thus far refrained.

We have since resorted to the expedient of keeping carrier pigeons to convey a message in an emergency but they do so litter up the roads with their feathers.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
